

Editorial

From the publisher's desk

Dear readers,

Welcome to the 5th Aerosol Forum in Paris. This issue presents an extensive preview of what the Aerosol Forum has to offer; therefore, we will be handing it out to visitors, convention participants, and exhibitors from our own booth. We wish all participants successful discussions and we hope that convention visitors will find the presentations interesting and educational.

In this March issue, you will also find our traditional survey of European valve manufacturers and their suppliers. We completed this survey shortly before this issue appeared so that you are getting the very latest information first-hand. For the results of the survey, please see pages 31 to 36.